Detail Town Tax Program

Town Supervisor Gerald Johnson and Town Assessor, Bruce Knapp remind property owners that all applications for appropriate tax exemptions must be filed with Knapp prior to Mar. 1.

Mar. 1 is the taxable status date for the town assessment roll. Any questions should be directed to Knapp at home (335-8249) or the Town Hall (468-3808) on Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m.

For the age 65 exemptions, the income maximum limit is $8,500 for town and county taxes; $7,500 for village taxes; $8,000 for school taxes. Each governing entity (Nunda Town Board, Livingston County Board, Nunda Village Board, and Keshqua Central School Board) establishes their own maximum income limit for the age 65 exemption. Forms may be obtained from Knapp.

Property tax exemptions in the Town of Nunda total $3,534,261 in assessed valuation; that is $1,227,694 in the village and $2,306,567 exempt in the town outside the village. The total taxable assessed valuation of Nunda is $42,291,067 (Village, $15,900,617; outside Village, $26,390,450).

Supervisor Johnson reminds the public that, according to town law and the vehicle and traffic law, from Nov. 1 until May 1, no motor vehicle or farm equipment is allowed to be parked on any town or county street, road or highway within the limits of the Town of Nunda outside the Village corporation limits.

"Any vehicle found parked or unattended in violation of this law may be removed and stored in a suitable location at the expense of the owner. A legal notice to this effect appeared in the Nov. 5, 1987, edition of the Genesee Country Express. Officials ask the public's cooperation in this regard. Parked cars along our roads definitely hamper and are dangerous to snow removal efforts."

If town residents have problems or concerns regarding cable television in the town, Johnson asks that you contact Genesee County Cablevision in Batavia at 1-800-462-2667, a toll-free number.

After advertising for sealed bids, which were publicly opened last Nov. 9, the Town Board approved the sale of a used highway department crusher to the Town of Allen at its Dec. 14 meeting. The Cedar Rapids 10-24 crusher built in the late 1940's was sold to the lone bidder for $10,000 on an as-is, where-is basis. Payment has been received and the crusher is now in the possession of the Town of Allen.

At the Dec. 14 meeting, the Town Board, by a unanimous 5-0 vote, approved a resolution to make application for a grant for the purpose of funding the proposed sewer and water districts within the town. Furthermore, the resolution authorized the Town to proceed to form sewer and/or water districts if the application for funding is successful.

Sue Brooks, town tax collector of 37 Fair Street, Nunda will receive taxes as follows: During January; Monday, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 4:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon. During February and March, Wednesdays and Fridays from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Set Dinner To Fund Program

Keshqua Central Teachers Association will sponsor the fourth annual scholarship spaghetti dinner Jan. 29 from 5 to 7 p.m.

Profits from the event are used to provide scholarships to Keshqua Central School students.

In 1987-88, four $100 scholarships were presented. The recipients were Theresa Maker of Dalton, Shelly Brooks, Sheila Strain and Ann Corcoran of Nunda. These four students are education majors at various colleges.

Amy Lander of Nunda and Jeff Howe of Hunt received $75 scholarships to pursue summer courses. Amy used hers in working with the hearing impaired. Jeff attended a leadership conference.

It is hoped, officials said, that with the proceeds of this year's projects, even more scholarships can be presented in 1988.

The dinner on Jan. 29 precedes a home basketball game with the Genesee Blue Devils. Residents are urged to make an evening of it and attend both events at Keshqua High School.

Tickets for the dinner are $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for children and may be purchased from any Association member or at the door.
